SATURDAY, MARCH 13, 1880.

No. 2.

A REMINISCENCE.

Once, when I was a little boy,
I sat me down to cry,
Because my little brother had
"The biggest piece of pie."
"I was, not but I had quite enough."
But then I couldn't see
The reason why a partial nurse.
Should give him more than me,
They said, I was a naughty boy.
But I have oft seen men,
Behave themselves as foolishly.
As I behaved just then,
For we are often thankless for,
Rich blessings, when we sigh
To think some luckier neighbor has A "Bigger piece" of pie.

An old farmer, with a house full of boys, was one day tugging away at a large piece of timber.
Finding it rather hard work, he called the boys, one after the other, but received no response. Finally, after he had no need of them they all came.

"Where, said he, 'have you been, and why didn't you come when I called.'"

"Out in the shop settin' the saw," replied one.

"And you Dick," continued the farmer.

"Out in the barn, settin' a hen."

"And you, Jack?"

"Up in Granny's room, settin' the clock."

"And you, Tom?"

"Up in the garret, settin' the trap."

"And now Master Fred where were you settin'?"

"On the door-step, settin' still,"
replied the lad.
